No Crying No More

Bic Runga

I met my darling last night
I'd never seen him before
He put his warm hand in mine
There'll be no crying no more
And in a flutter of bees
And in a whisper of trees
I've never seen him before
There'll be no crying, no more
There is no rest for the wicked
No blues like before
Our spell's been lifted
Just like a baby born once more
And either side of the street
The flowers bloom where we meet
I'd never seen them before
There'll be no crying no more
There'll be no crying no more
There'll be no crying no more
