Don't Cry

Faith Evans

Take just one look around me, tell me what you see
Your reflection and the brokenhearted memory
I tried so hard to do the best I could
You lied and now we've got to get this understoodDon't cry, don't call me
I don't want you around me
Who are you to judge me?
I'm only what you made meYou should have took advantage of every waking moment
But you thought that you had time to waste and you were
So dead wrong, I tried so hard to do the best I could
You lied and now we've go to get this understoodDon't cry, don't call me
I don't want you around me
Who are you to judge me?
I'm only what you made meDon't cry, don't call me
I don't want you around me
Who are you to judge me?
I'm only what you to made meI don't wanna see your face
Don't wanna hear your voice
Don't you know you made the choice?
Boy, you did me so wrongDon't cry, don't call me
I don't want you around me
Who are you to judge me?
I'm only what you made meTake just one look around me, tell me what you see
(Don't cry, don't call me, I don't want you around me)
Your reflection and the brokenhearted memory
(Who are you to judge me? I'm only what you made me)Baby, I tried so hard to do the best I could
But you lied and now we've got to get this understood
(Don't cry, don't call me, I don't want you around me)
(Who are you to judge me? I'm only what you made me)Don't cry, don't call me
I don't want you around me
Who are you to judge me?
