Good Morning

Jaya the Cat

Good morning, I know it's early
But I had to call just to the tell you to ignore that message that I left on your machine last night
What I meant to say was thatI don't wanna fight with anyone else but you Stay out all night with anyone else but you, girlDon't wanna wake up sunday morning lying in bed with a pounding in my head next to someone else
Hanging in the sun out on the front deck
Trying to figure out where all the money wentDon't wanna have to take the cat to the vet
Pawn my guitar so we can pay the rent
And I don't wanna take an STD test
For another woman, girl, it just don't make senseAnd I don't wanna be with anyone else but you, girl
I don't wanna be with anyone else but you, girlDon't wanna catch a fire with anyone else but you Don't wanna share my last line with anyone else but you, girlAnd I don't wanna dance to drum and bass and have someother bitch come and take your place
Don't wanna eat fries from a paper bag riding home through the city in the boring rain, manI don't want anyone on the back of my bike but you Don't wanna drink mimosa's and stay up all night with anyone else but you
And I don't wanna have to sympathise with someone else's fucked up life
And if I OD I wouldn't want anyone but you, girl, to be dialing 911Cause I don't wanna be with anyone else but you, girlGood morning, I know it's early
But I had to call just to the tell you to ignore
that message that I left on your machine last night
What I meant to say is that I love you
