Miserable Without You

What's Eating Gilbert

When we signed up for this
I sure thought it would get easier
Here I am, cold in my bed
Bundled up with my head spinning
Would you wake from all your dreams
If you knew they would keep you from me?
Or ignore that shooting star
If you knew it would take you far so
Baby, tell me you're not leaving, leaving me already
Already you're gone, no, wait, pleaseHow am I supposed to sleep alone without you next to me?
Oh, baby, can't you see? I'm miserable without youAnd strangers get more time
With your attention, when's it gonna be mine?
Even though time moves too fast
I'd skip a year just to get you back
Would you wake from all your dreams
If you knew they would keep you from me?
Or ignore that shooting star
If you knew it would take you far so
Baby, tell me you're not leaving, leaving me already
Already you're gone, no, wait, pleaseHow am I supposed to sleep alone without you next to me?
Oh, baby, can't you see? I'm miserable without you
[x2]Baby, tell me you're not leaving, leaving me already
Already you're gone, no, wait please
No, wait, pleaseHow am I supposed to sleep alone without you next to me?
Oh, baby, can't you see? I'm miserable without you
I'm miserable with you, I'm miserable without you next to me
Oh, baby, can't you see? I'm miserable without you
