

In Spite Of Me

Marion Raven

God, it was late, I was drunk
You saw me
The one by my side wasn't you
I'm sorry And I knew right then
That I lost you there
You took me in In spite of me
You made me feel invited
Nobody else
That is what I decided Selfish and dumb, stupid and young
Yeah, that's me
But from all of the wrongs, you make it right
And forgive me It's been said before
But I'll try once more
You are the one In spite of me
You made me feel invited
Nobody else
That is what I decided God, it was late, I was drunk
You saw me
The one by my side, he wasn't you
I'm sorry You made me feel invited
I'm sorry
Nobody else
That is what I decided In spite of me, you're here
In spite of me
You made me feel invited
Nobody else
That is what I decided In spite of me, you're here
In spite of me
In spite of me
