American Loser

Maren Ord

Who cares there's too many people bothering me
Who's there you know that you better stop clobbering me oh no
I swear if you open your mouth I'll count to three

I've been crowned the american loser
I have cried from state to state
No one wants to listen to my sad sad song
They just sing along
They're singing my song

Run around naked nobody's gonna' be hearing your prayer oh well
Even if you fake it nobody's gonna' be willing to care
Well you could travel the world and back but everybody has already been there ay now

I've been crowned the american loser
I have cried from state to state
No one wants to listen to my sad sad song
They just sing along ooh
They're stealing my song

Who cares there's too many stories out there
Well that's fine but it's not fair
Well how come nobody wants to listen to mine mine mine

Well I thought I could make a fuss for your eyes
Thought if I wore you a friendly disguise
You'd never see through what I am in my life
You'd never know who I am but you see
Well it's not me oh no

I've been crowned the american loser
I have cried from state to state
No one wants to listen to my sad sad song
We just sing along ooh oh

Well I've been crowned the american loser
I have cried from state to state
No one wants to listen to my sad sad song
They just sing along oh oh

They just sing along na na na
They sing a song
They're stealing my song
