Too Much Too Soon

Tanner Patrick

It's been a short time don't you know
I was thinking about a home
With you and with me
Till we fell out suddenlyWe're moving too fast for an "ever after"
Why would you do that?
Could you step back a little bit?Tell me what you want
And you know I'd rather
Anything but that
Anything but thatIt's too much too soon I'm sorry
Why don't we just burn our vows
And bow out
Face first I fell ten stories
Trying to get your love
But you held it from me
Now you changed your mind
Well so did IIt's been a short time don't you know
I'm wreck now but I'm close
To a new page new life
To a new place something rightWe're moving too fast an ever after
Why would you do that?
Could you step back?We're waiting on the world
So we just slept in
But time was never waiting
There's no way to pretend that
I'm not afraid of the walls I built
There's no way that I could let you in
I said that I'm not afraid of the walls I built
There's no way that I could let you in!
