Turning

Breaking Pangaea

This is how it's hurting me again.
This is what it feels like.
It makes me wonder,
makes me want to see from the outside.
It makes me wonder,
makes me want to know if there's any other way.
The other side makes you wonder, makes you wonder why.
It takes another look on the outside.
You wonder if you wanted to see.
Forever.
Because I've tried to tell you, tell you why
but I don't get any understanding from you.
Makes you wonder why, makes you wonder why.
The other side makes you wonder why.
Take me to the other side, I want to know.
You're stull around.
I want to know what time it was, you slipped away.
Otherside makes you wonder why.
Any other way?
The more you wander,
the more it makes me think of where we used to be.
And I say,"this is how it's turning me again, this is what it feels like."
Far away, forever and every time we fall,
we let it slip away and every time we knew, we let it slip away.
This is how it's hurting me again, this is what it feels like.
