

Dust Clears (feat. BBC Philharmonic Orchestra)

Clean Bandit

Imagine if the life that you thought you shared
Wasn't really there
It was made up in your mind,
Could be anyone, anywhere 'Cause you'd been living in a world of your own design, undermined,
In another place other space in time As the dust clears and it all starts to disappear,
It may get harder 'cause you just restarted
And wherever you are, land on another star!
It may get harder 'cause you just restarted You better get real, real, real and
Realize that the situation's going nowhere
Because you act so tough I've totally lost control
So please try to understand that if I could
I'd call and I would be there
And if it didn't hurt so much you know I'd give you it all Imagine if the hope that you thought you knew
Wasn't really true!
It just existed in your head
The reflection used wasn't you, Completely unaware could be anywhere, any time,
'Cause there was shift in the paradigm As the dust clears and it all starts to disappear,
It may get harder 'cause you just restarted
And wherever you are, land on another star!
It may get harder 'cause you just restarted You better get real, real, real and
Realize that the situation's going nowhere
Because you act so tough I've totally lost control
So please try to understand that if I could
I'd call and I would be there
And if it didn't hurt so much you know I'd give you it all

Songwriters

JAMES JOHN NAPIER, JACK ROBERT PATTERSON, GRACE ELIZABETH CHATT
Published by
Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd., Universal Music Publishing Group
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>