

Surrender

Angaleena Presley

My life reminds me of everything I said it wouldn't be
It's kind of sad to believe shooting for perfection
Would backfire on meOnly one thing left to try
I'm reaching for the white flag 'cause I'mReady to surrender
I can't do this by myselfMy truth became a joke
But it ain't so funny from the end of my rope
It gets bad, hell, I never knew
When you hit the bottom you've got more fallin' to doNot quite ready to hope
Still gettin' used to lettin' goBut I'm ready to surrender
I can't do this by myself
I'm hard-headed and it's hard for me to ask for helpI'm ready to surrender
I can't do this by myself
I'm hard-headed and it's hard for me to ask for helpI've lost everything and I've fought this long enough to Know there ain't no winner
So I'm givin' up, 'cause I'm strong enough to surrender
