The Reason

Novice

I always think of you when it's to late
When everything is upside down
You never let me go
You wait patiently
Sometimes I think that I will never learn
Sometimes I think that you should just throw me away
Just let me go and fall apartYou're always holding on
You never put me down
And when I can't go on
You're still right there to hold my handSo tell me, so tell me why
You never leave my side
So tell me, so tell me why
It doesn't matter where I go
You're just a step behind
You're always there just giving me a reason
A reason to believeI can't remember the last time I was here
I know it's been to long
But sometimes things are hard to face
You never left me alone
When I was turning 'round you keep on coming
It's things like this that gets me
You got to meSo tell me, so tell me why
You never leave my side
So tell me, so tell me why
It doesn't matter where I go
You're just a step behind
You're always there just giving me a reason
A reason to believeBelieve
You've given me a reason
Don't let go
You've gone to far
Don't let goSometimes I think that I will never learn (Don't let go)
When I was turning 'round you keep on coming (You've gone to far)
It's things like this that gets me (Don't let go)
You got to meSo tell me, so tell me why
You never leave my side
So tell me, so tell me why
It doesn't matter where I go

You're always there just giving me a reason
A reason to believeBelieve
