Girl With The Clandestine Heart
I used to love a girl caled Mary-Jane
I used to think that people looked the same
Without their heads onBut then she made my sky complete
I used to watch her fall asleepI used to kiss her lie the salty sea
I used to think that we where wild and free
So independent
But like buildings people fall apart
She's the girl with the clandestine heart
She used to tell me things I've never heard
It made me raise my head just like a bird
When it drinks water
I swore to love her 'til the end of time
But when I turned around she wasn't mine
I should've seen itI should've known it from the start
She's the girl with the clandestine heart
