

In The Night (Entering The Danger Zone)

Sammy Hagar

Yeah, there's so much that you can't see
So many things that you can be
You're in the black, so you can be free
So many places you can hide
So many things you never tried
No need to know who's on your side
I got secrets in the night
And I've got confidence in the night
And I've got a chance in the night
No one cares, who is who
If you believe it, it must be true
At last you, can be you
I've got secrets in the night
And I've got confidence in the night
And I've got a chance in the night
It happens, slowly
The way we grow old, never knowing
Darkness fell, slow and easy
As though nothing was wrong
Lost in a dream
But things are not the way they seem anymore
We've all been there before
How ever the darker it is, the better I see
I see through you, I see beyond me
I see black with color, I see the key
And I've got secrets in the night
And I've got confidence in the night
And I've got a chance in the night
(Oh)
