Do You Ever

Return to Forever

Do you ever think what life will be
Where you will go after you die
Do you ever wonder why we're here
Why we were born you and ISometimes I'm plagued with questions
Answers hard to find
Sometimes I sit in darkness
Feeling almost blind
Then the light from someone's touch
Will give me strength to see
And I realize I'm on this earth
To actually be freeDo you ever look at people's faces
And see grayness all around
Do you need a friend to understand
And listen to the joy you foundFinding that special someone
Who will really care
Listening to your problems
Wanting to be there
You don't need a lot of friends
To make you feel worthwhile
All you need is that special someone
To make you laugh and smile
