

Rest In Peace

Ian Hunter & The Rant Band

Hunter
If my wheel could take another turn
And if my life replaced itself again
I wouldn't want a single thing to change
Oh it's been good though it's been strange. And if my dreams were willing to come true
I would not even try to them through
I'm sure there's things I've missed that others preached
The goals they reached, they were not for me.
Rest in peace
Even though the worries let you down
Don't let them count, rest in peace. Throw all those smiles and miles away
You will willow pattern pictures through the rain
And swallow when your heart begins to breathe
Just like a bird, do what it please. 'Cause I ain't gonna be here all that long
And when I go I want to know I sung
If there's a road ahead, I'll rock right in Just got to win, this is my thing.
Rest in peace
Even though the worries let you down
Don't let them count, rest in peace. Rest in peace.
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>