Colbie Caillat

Waited all my life for this day to come
I feel like letting go, life goes on Wasting no more time
So much to be done
Everything works out So they say
Over my shoulder
It's tough getting older
Yeah, yeah Seems like nothing is black and white anymore
Shades of grey and I feel a weight over my shoulder
It's tough getting older I always thought that I knew where I'd want to go
Now I'm here and I find that I'm still getting colder
It's kinda tough getting older Here before my eyes, many roads ahead
Time for me to choose one way now If I take a chance, what lies down the road
Feeling so confused, turned round On and on, on and on
Yeah, yeah Seems like nothing is black and white anymore
Shades of grey and I feel a weight over my shoulder
It's tough getting older I always thought that I knew where I'd want to go
Now I'm here and I find that I'm still getting colder
It's kinda tough getting older Waited all my life for this day to come
I feel like letting go, life goes on Over my shoulder, on and on It's tough getting older, on and on, on
Yeah, yeah Seems like nothing is black and white anymore
Shades of grey and I feel a weight over my shoulder
It's tough getting older I always thought that I knew where I'd want to go
Now I'm here and I find that I'm still getting colder
It's kinda tough getting older Seems like nothing is black and white anymore
Shades of grey and I feel a weight over my shoulder
It's tough getting older
