All Fall Down

Ben Moody

There's just too much
I have in this heart
To say I'm sorry for
More than I can rememberI'm scared to touch
Anything I love
Afraid that I'll
Only leave that in piecesIn time
We tend to find a place
So far from homeWe all fall down
Yes, we all fall down
We all fall down
In the endThere's little now
In this empty wall
To believe in
And so all little timeIs it worth the life?
Not another med
Who does not agree
Just to prove you're rightIn time
We tend to find a place
So far away from homeWe all fall down
Yes, we all fall down
We all fall down
In the endIn time
We tend to find a place
So far away from homeWe all fall down
Yes, we all fall down
We all fall down
In the endFalling into pieces (under skies of gray)
Life falls underneath us (time is washed away)
Falling into pieces (under skies of gray)
Life falls underneath us (time is washed away)
