

Green Honeycreeper

Olivia Jean

Can't you feel I'm breathing down your neck
Peeking round corners to keep in check
Put a blindfold over my eyes
But all along I, I can see just fine Now I'm spinning like a hurricane
'Cause the truth is unravelling so is your name
Getting dizzy thinking 'bout your sins
Just watch your head spin, and then you know I'm in 'Cause Honey I'm a green honeycreeper
You can't step out on me
I'm a green honeycreeper, baby
I'll put you under lock and key And when you find you've lost the battle
Don't sit there like a baby, shakin' your rattle
You say that I can't do the same
Put on my new skin, and I can sway that way 'Cause I don't wanna be the last to learn
The only bridge between us is about to burn
I'm hangin' right between heaven and hell
I got a crazy little feeling that starting to swell Well, Honey I'm a green honeycreeper
You can't step out on me
I'm your green honeycreeper, baby
I'll put you under lock and key I'm not too sweet to see your wicked ways
You know that I wasn't born yesterday
It's about time to even up these grounds
I'm in a frenzy; I'm feelin' randy now [GUITAR SOLO] The temperature's goin' up and down
And my patience is twistin' round and round
There's no tomorrow, so how about this:
I'll steal your breath away with a hemlock kiss Because Honey I'm a green honeycreeper
You can't step out on me
I'm your green honeycreeper, baby
I'll put you under lock and key Can't you feel I'm breathing down your neck
Peekin' round corners to keep in check
Put a blindfold over my eyes
But all along I, I can see just fine
