

Time (Re-Recorded Version)

Craig Douglas

Time will make the flowers grow
Time will melt the ice and snow
Time can make a forest from a drop of dew
But to make me forget your love
Yes, to make me forget your love
Is going to take much more than time

Time will change the winter scene
Time can turn the desert green
Time can make a mountain disappear from view
But to make me forget your kiss
Oh, that fabulous kiss you kiss
Is going to take much more than time
Much more than time

And if I live a thousand years
The thought that weâ€™re apart
Would fill my eyes with tears

Time can make the sun grow cold
Time can wash the clouds of gold
Time, who knows the miracle that time can do
But to make me forget your love
Yes, to make me forget your love
Is going to take much more than time
Much more than time

Time can make the sun grow cold
Time can wash the clouds of gold
Time, who knows the miracle that time can do
But to make me forget your love
Yes, to make me forget your love
Is going to take much more than time
Much more than time
Much more than time
Much more than time
