

Shattered Glass

Brad Paisley

I can picture you the day you were born
Baby girl in your mama's arms
Destined for great things
Crazy thing about an angel like you
All the things you know how to do and yet
The world tries to clip your wings
But you wouldn't let 'em
So, baby, go get 'em

Bust that ceiling out
The sky's the limit now
The world is changing fast
Rear your head back and roar
Like you ain't ever done before
It's your time at last
All you've been through ain't in vain
Come on, baby, make it rain down shattered glass

It's kinda fun for a guy like me
Sitting here in your shotgun seat
Watching you leave 'em all in the dust
Because I believe in you
And I wanna see your dreams come true

So bust that ceiling out
The sky's the limit now
Time to make up for the past
Rear your head back and roar
Like you ain't ever done before
I wanna see you kick some ass
I'm so proud to know you, girl
The most beautiful thing in the world
Is all this shattered glass

No time to waste, gotta make this moment yours
Got a whole lot of history to make up for

So bust that ceiling out
The sky's the limit now
The world is changing fast

All youâ€™ve been through ainâ€™t in vain
Come on, baby, make it rain down shattered glass
