Trees

The Diamond Man Clan

If trees will always grow, that we will never know.
Cause greed will take it's toll our bodies will forget our soulsSoon I've got to pay for all the troubles that I've made,
To delay, I know, in vein, I chained my lies up yesterday.
It must be done eventually, I've come to realize. It won't be fun. Step up. Apologize.Hey man if you take a look around and you don't like what you see,
Don't stand there with your pockets full of hands, you've got to work in order to get free.When I look at you: so proud of what you do. I'll finally speak that truth.
The hardest chains but I'll rip loose some day, man.
If you take a look around and you don't like what you see,
Don't stand there with your pockets full of hands, you've got to work in order to get free.If trees will always grow, that we will never know.
Cause greed will take it's toll our bodies will forget our souls
Hey man if you take a look around and you don't like what you see,
Don't stand there with your pockets full of hands, you've got to work in order to get free.
