

Road of Creation

Ahola

You won't break me I'll find my way
Sooner or later I know I'll have my day
'Cause you are ice but I am fire
If you'd cease to exist It'd be too easy to flame
Higher and higher What you've got won't dissuade me
I choose to breathe, I choose to be free
I guess I'll take, whatever life brings and drown into depths or spread my wings
Come with me, take my hand
Won't you try to understand?
I cannot change I won't pretend
There will be no other end
From this road of creation
Oh, I have tried to alter my way
But here I stand No matter what you say What I've got doesn't really seem Worth your while, not much to redeem
So now I'll take it whatever life brings
And drown into depths or spread my wings
Come with me, take my hand
Won't you try to understand?
I cannot change I won't pretend
There will be no other end
Than walking this one-off road
Into destination I cannot turn back now
From this road of creation
Come with me, take my hand
Won't you take me as I am?
I cannot change I won't pretend
There will be no other end
Than walking this one-off road
Into destination I cannot turn back now
From this road of creation
road of creation
road of my own creation
