Lose Myself

Charity

My heart has been broken for so long
I've seen the hurting side of love
Lived on this ship with a lonely song
Praying I would drift onI traveled the cold and stormy sea
Wandering blind on the four winds
I see Your light shining brightly for me
Please guide me through the mist
I'm lost unlessI lose myself in You, I lose myself in You
Your love is true, I lose myself in You
I have sailed the ocean blue, I lose myselfI think of Your touch, Your smile, Your, Your eyes
And I can't believe I ever thought
That I could be happy and free at sea
Without Your love, I'm not, I'm lost untilI lose myself in You, I lose myself in You
Your love is true, I lose myself in You
And the waves are breaking through
I lose myself in You, yeahSummer nights have come a-calling
And I ran after always falling
Hard for what was worthless and untrueYou were watching from the beaches
Grasping for my sightless reaches
Hoping I would fall in love with YouThe waiting is over
My patient perfect friend
I will hold You in my heart
Until the starry endI lose myself in You, I lose myself in You
You know I do, I lose myself in You
I have sailed the ocean blue
I lose myself in You, I lose myself in YouLose myself in You, lose myself in You
Lose myself in You, lose myself in You
Lose myself in You, lose myself in You
In You
