The Benjamins

i wake up like a comet dizzy from the re-entry and i'm on fire i'm on fire
do the dishes, make the bed do the math inside my head but it still comes out ones and zeros so i took a look and noticed that your rocket was intact inside my bubble this morning put my helmet on and took a deep breath of your super processed oxygen and walked around the launchpadi cant believe, i cant believe that nothings gunna happen that nothings gunna happen here i cant believe, i cant believe the chances are looking the chances are looking slim this yearwatch the countdown go from T minus something to whatever comes after that and thought about the way the super nova shines like the colors in your hair, and im sorry that im not there but this is for the good of the universe i look down and see the world get smaller as i get a little colder as i reach for the sattelite phone i gotta tell you baby, space is the place, but its never gunna be home cause your not therei cant believe, i cant believe
the chances are looking slim this yeari cant believe, i cant believe
the chances are looking slim this yeari wake up like a comet, dizzy from the re-entry and i'm on fire
i'm on fire
