

You Don't Have to Love Me

Blues Traveler

The world is coming to an end its gonna fall into the sea
The ice caps are all melting but youre still mad at me
And all your reservations will be washed upon the sand
But you dont have to love me
Tonight Ill be your man
Yeah you dont have to love me
Cause tonight Ill be your man
Life in the Big Easy will probably never be that way
Sweet Lucinda Williams takes the glory over the fame
But you and I were dreamers theyre going to catch us in the end
But you dont have to love me
Tonight Ill be your man
Yeah you dont have to love me
Cause tonight Ill be your man
If you dont love me
You dont have to explain.
If you dont want me
Well just play this little game
With everything thats going wrong
Each day could be our last
You dont have to love me
You dont have to love me
But tonight Ill be your man
But you dont have love me
Tonight Ill be your man
Yeah you dont have to love me
Cause tonight Ill be your man
Yeah you dont have to love me
Tonight Ill be your man
Yeah you dont have to love me
Cause tonight Ill be your man
