

Aero Zeppelin

Nirvana

What's a season in a right if you can't have anything?
What's the reason in a rhyme if a plan means anything?
What's the meaning in a crime, it's a fan if anything?
Where's the meaning in a line? It's a brand, it's a brandHow a culture comes again, it's [Incomprehensible] yesterday
And you swear it's not a trend, doesn't matter anyway
They're only here to talk to friends, nothing new is everyday
You could shit upon the stage, they'll be fans
They'll be fans, they'll be fans, they'll be fansAll the kids will eat it up, if it's packaged properly
Steal a sound and imitate, uniform and equally
Not an ode, just the facts, where our world is nowadays
An idea is what we lack, it doesn't matter anywaysAll the kids will eat it up, if it's packaged properly
Steal a sound and imitate, uniform and equally
Not an ode, just the facts, where our world is nowadays
An idea is what we lack, it doesn't matter anyways

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>