

Lost And Alone

From Ashes to New

All around the skies are falling down upon me
I'm trapped inside this wake of nothing
Once what was beautiful is now a disease
I can't believe these walls were something Burning down over me
I can't make my way through the debris
I can't make it no
I try my hardest to see
I can't find my way on the streets
I can't make it home Lost and alone in this world with no hope
Trying not to let go but there's nothing to hold Everyday it seems we're evolving
Into a world that's not there for you
Everything we were is now dissolving
Into this apathetic life that we choose Burning down over me
I can't make my way through the debris
I can't make it no
I try my hardest to see
I can't find my way on the streets
I can't make it home Lost and alone in this world with no hope
Trying not to let go but there's nothing to hold Nowhere to go, nothing to hold Everything around me starts to crumble
Nowhere to go nothing to hold
Someone save me Save me this nothing is drowning me
Nothing can save me it's drowning me again I'm bleeding before I lose
But this nightmare just began Lost and alone in this world with no hope
I'm trying not to let go but there's nothing, nothing
Lost and alone in this world with no hope
I'm trying not to let go and there's nothing to hold
Lost and alone in this world with no hope
I'm trying not to let go and there's nothing, nothing Save me this nothing is drowning me
Nothing can save me it's drowning me

Songwriters

GARRETT LEE RUSSELL, DANIEL RYAN KECKI, Tim D'onofrio, Matt Brandyberry, BRANDEN SCOTT
KREIDER, ROBERT MCFARLAND Published by

Lyrics © Downtown Music Publishing Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>