

Bright Lights

Casey McQuillen

There's nothing about me
To explain why you care
There's nothing about me
That would make you want to stare
There's nothing about me
But that look in your eye
Tells me that someday
You pray, I'll tell him goodbye

Because bright lights always cast a shadow
The sun sometimes forgets to shine
Rain falls deeper than the ocean
Was it all worth the short time
You were mine?

There's something about him
It makes me crazy inside
There's something about him
Do you think that he lied?
There's nothing about me
I'm in love with him
There's nothing about me
To make him worry he won't win

Because bright lights always cast a shadow
The sun sometimes forgets to shine
Rain falls deeper than the ocean
Was it all worth the short time
You were mine?
