

Chain of Flowers

Grinderman

I know you're hanging around outside my door
I know you've been here six times today or maybe more
I know you're hesitating
But I'm here waiting Don't you know it'll be all right
Don't you know it'll be all right Maybe you could become a friend of mine
Every time you come around here you leave a dandelion
And I've been sittin' here for hours
Making a chain of flowers Don't you know it'll be all right The chains of flowers are fragile things
They break in time
But the chains of love
Are the changes of love
Are the chains that bind The chains of flowers are fragile things
They break in time
But the chains of love
Are the chains of love
Are the chains of love
Are the chains of love People keep telling me I'm lonely
But I'd be happy if you'd know me
Throw that door open wide
And step inside And everything wouldn't be alright
And everything wouldn't be alright
Yeah everything wouldn't be alright
Alright...
