

Walk Away

Sevendust

You can't ever accept your fight so
What's the point of asking when I know the only answer is It's my fault you live this so called
Life where all your consequences fall on everyone else
Making everybody struggle
I'm finding it ever so clear
If I had so much to say
Why was I the one to walk away?
You never found a way to change
That's why I had to walk away
I dig a hole so you have a place to Find another way to change the story for everyone
I'm not buying the shit that you're talking
Live with your decision consequences have come around
And it's time for you to struggle
You're finding it ever so clear
If I had so much to say

Why was I the one to walk away?
You never found a way to change
That's why I had to walk away
If I had so much to say
Why was I the one to walk away?
You never found a way to change
That's why I had to walk away
If I had so much to say
Why was I the one to walk away?
You never found a way to change
That's why I had to walk away
If I had so much to say
Why was I the one to walk away?
You never found a way to change
That's why I had to walk away
