Rocks Tonic Juice Magic

Saves The Day

Let me take this awkward saw, run it against your thighs
Cut some flesh away, I'll carry this piece of you with me
So I can say tonight is that I hate you, it would be all right
If we could see each other sometime, oh
If I could somehow make you mine
And if not I'll take my spoons dig out your blue eyes
Swallow them down to my colon, they're gonna burn like hell tonight
'Cause you're beautiful, just not on the inside, yeah
Light comes from within your beaming eyes don't seem so bright
Heart is on the floor, why don't you step on it?
When I think of all the things you've done
Heart is on the floor, why don't you step on it?
When I think of all the things you've done
Boardwalks and breaking waves made our Saturdays
I'd buy you lemonade right now if you were here
But then I'd throw it in your face and I'd listen to you cry
Remember how I miss our nights under ocean skies
Heart is on the floor, why don't you step on it?
When I think of all the things you've done
Heart is on the floor, why don't you step on it?
When I think of all the things you've done
You and I are like when fire and the ocean floor collide
You and I are like when fire and the ocean floor collide
You and I are like when fire and the ocean floor collide
You and I are like when fire and the ocean floor collide

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/