To the Light

Hattan Amika

I'm taking a break because I'm losing it again
And I wanna relate without you thinking I'm insane
Oh, it's the same, another train
Just sitting around with record in my brain
And could have everything you wanted
But you would be still be wanting more
?Cause the sun is always in your eyes
You search for stillness on a rock
That?s spinning 'round and 'round and you're surprised
Take a break from all I know
Just sit back and let it flow
Then I find I've broken through
To the light again
And every time I find I'm thinking about the things I wanna
That is the time I have nothing to sing
And every time I find I'm thinking about things that don't matter
That is the time I see everything
I want to know lord, why it's got to be so hard?
Wanna know lord, why it's got to be so hard?
I feel like a Muppet with a drunken puppeteer
But I'll survive, I will survive
Take a break from all I know
Just sit back and let it flow
Then I find I've broken through
To the light again
Then I find I've broken through
To the light again
To the light again
To the light again
Take a break from all I know
Just sit back and let it flow
Then I find I've broken through
To the light again
Take a break from all I know
Tell myself to let it go
Then I find I've broken through
To the light again
Then I find I've broken through
To the light again
