Trial By Fire

The Banner

kill yourself all by yourself your eyes cried dry and you've gained nothing hearts in shreds your own knife refuse to escape your self made torture alone by yourself only hurts if you need someone to need truly need anothers touch can lead you into... and i'm sorry, if my momentary lapse just caused you one more thing and knowing what i've done can tug a fraying tear like thread slipping through my fingers and thats not much to show for pain endured but in the end you'll learn its worth alone by yourself only hurts if you need someone to need truly need anothers touch can lead you into hell longing, desire, burning inside her crawling in darkness, only a glimmer of hope as she yelled these words. i'll face my pain on my own - standing strong prove for myself.
