Owl Waltz

Seabear

Its hard to wake up
When youre not sleeping
Its hard to make it mean something
When it means nothing at allHear a call he made
I slept for a year until
I pulled your hairI fell down the stairs
So glad I found you there
Time to forget
Your mistakes and regretsSometimes I swore
Youre in my house
Was a trap tooAnd I had black nights
When my hope had died
You, youre a friendly knifeSo I let the werewolf out
I let the [Incomprehensible] have their way
Ive looked down on you
From my mountain, I slept by your feetAnd when you come out
With your strong winter moon to drown in sound
And Ill sleep nor lie
When your happy tide twist ashore on the frozen ground
Its your hollow now so many would dream aboutSome nights I swear
There was magic in the air
