

In the Room Where You Sleep

Dead Man's Bones

I saw something sitting on your bed
I saw something touching your head
In the room where you sleep
In the room where you sleep, where you sleep

You better run, you better run
You better hide, you better hide
You better run

I saw something sitting on your bed
I saw something touching your head
In the room where you sleep
In the room where you sleep, where you sleep

You better run, you better run
You better hide, you better hide

There's something in the shadows
In the corner of your room
A dark heart is beating and waiting for you
There is no open window but the floors still creep
In the room where you sleep
In the room where you sleep, where you sleep

You better run, you better run
You better hide, you better hide

Oh, you better run
