

Unfinished

Barenaked Ladies

I left a tip but it was never a donation
I took a trip but it was never a vacation
I took a seat but I'd refuse to a number
And so defeated, I proceeded unencumbered I'd say an ounce of prevention
Is worth a pound of attention span I took her hand but it was not in matrimony
I told my side but it was never testimony I'd say an ounce of prevention
Is worth a pound of attention span
Spanning all the ages, turning all the pages
The history of me is incomplete Everything is un
Everything is unfin
Everything is unfinished I played along but it was not for recreation
I left my home but it was not evacuation
I made a pact that I would finish what I started
I admit the fact I was distracted and outsmarted I'd say an ounce of prevention
Is worth a pound of attention span Everything is un
Everything is unfin
Everything is unfinished Everything is un
Everything is unfin
Everything is unfinished Everything is un
Everything is unfin
Everything is unfinished
Everything is unfin
