

Echoes

Sinew

you're breathing through lips I can't kiss talk to the memory of a man that I miss speak of the things we shared tell me you're with me tell me you care

time won't heal
these wounds will not disappear as long as I'm lost in time you meant the world to me

a feeling so sweet
yet I couldn't defeat
the worries and doubts we were wrapped in beneath though I tried

I've remained in the ruins you left drowning in heaven with plans for the past I live like a ghost in our suite jugs but no water a heart but no beat

until I heal this place from time

resistance is melting away revealing the pain
I face it today
so your echoes will never haunt me again good bye
