

Hear Me

Darkseed

a bloody rusted nail piercing through my veins no light to change eternal night to day here human life has no worth i never found what i was looking for do you hear me when i cry i never know what to search will you find it when i'm gone? do you hear me when i cry no you don't chaos, madness, many sighs in a world without hope my mind's not filled with things to come time runs away under my feet a part of me has gone and died life's going on and will do when i'm gone
