Words Unspoken

Two Fams

Why sing a lonely song?
The whole world knows that love goes wrong
Why bruise a heart that isn't broken?
It isn't broken, it can be broken
Life's just a show for free
Come along and watch with me
The only sins are words unspoken
Words unspoken, never spoken
Sweet things come and go
Give me shame, I'll give you woe
To live for love isn't so easy
It isn't easy, it won't be easy
How all good men try
Look around and wonder why
Can they shape this world to please me
Can they please me, should they please me
And follow and maybe you'll correct me
I wish you'd never met me for I am no gentle man
And follow and while you watch and wonder
I'll pull the world asunder and show you who I am
Send me a gentle dream
Of love so strange it's never seen
And prove how such a love can happen
It can happen, make it happen
'Cos fine things don't abound
Fade away without a sound
But hope must never end or slacken
Never slacken, never slacken
And follow and maybe you'll correct me
I wish you'd never met me, I am no gentle man
And follow and while you watch and wonder
I'll pull the world asunder and show you who I am

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/