

Wine After Whiskey

Carrie Underwood

Once upon a time our world was on fire and I loved to watch it burn Wild and reckless, never any limits, guess I had a lot to learn
'Cause fire turns to ember, embers to ashes that blow away too soon Now everything's after you is like having
wine after whiskey
It went from do anything for you babe to you don't even miss me
Once you've tasted a love that strong you can't go back
And you can't settle on anything less
And that's what gets me, it's like having wine after whiskey Looking back I guess it's really for the best, still you're something that I crave
Even though I know it was right to let you go, you're a habit hard to break
I got used to being high and nothing that I try seems good enough right now It's all so watered down like having
wine after whiskey
It went from do anything for you babe to you don't even miss me
Once you've tasted a love that strong
You can't go back and you can't settle on anything less
And that's what gets me, it's like having wine after whiskey
Once you've tasted a love that strong you can't go back
And you can't settle on anything less
And that's what gets me, it's like having wine after whiskey
