False Alarm

The Head and the Heart

Visions of you
Dance through my head
Dark heroine of the books i have read
Pages torn out
I made up my own word
Deep in the dream
It's all built to last
You pull the plug
Drain me down fast
Popped my balloon
I fell from a great high
And I'm tired of wasting life
Searching out, going round
What became such a false alarm(chorus)
Cause I'm looking for the truth
Not some tired, cheap cliche
False treasure in a shallow arm
(end chorus)Fireworks blew out the top of your head Powder and spark drew me to bed
Drift if you dare down a dark and frozen stream
I thought I found jewel of the Nile
You're just a shiny rock in my pile
So many stones stuck in my shoes
And I know if there's enough it could make up a road that could lead me far from this town(chorus)

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/