

The Wonder

The Golden Palominos

Prayers sent a million pieces
Hang on tightly insight
There now in the basement
Voices in the kitchen
My hands you know down there
Falling tightly inside
I say God I love you
God I love you
Someone's sleeping upstairs
God is always watching
Hang on tightly insight
Hang on tightly insight
Walk outside and wonder
At the wonder of the everything
Walk outside and wonder
At the wonder of the everything
Walk outside and wonder
At the everything of everything
If the answers answer anything at all
They do by making the questions small
And if there are questions small
Then why are we so confused?
And why do we spend our lives
Trying to break the fall?
Prayers sent a million pieces
Hang on tightly insight
There now in the basement
Voices in the kitchen
Falling tightly inside
God I love you
God I love you
God I love you
Walk outside and wonder
At the wonder of the everything
Walk outside and wonder
At the wonder of the everything
Walk outside and wonder
At the wonder of the everything
If the answers answer anything at all

They do by making the questions small
And if there are questions small
Then why are we so confused?
And why do we spend our lives
Trying out to break the
Boy says just this one time
His eyes clenched like his fist
He says God I love you
God I love you
God is always watching
There now in the basement
God I love you
God I love you
God I love you
God I love you
God I love you
God I love you
God I love you
God I love you
God I love you
