Here

Sarah Blasko

Flowers open, winter's spoken
The same world but the view has changed
A veil has lifted, the ground has shifted
What you only longed for is hereA moment mends a broken heart
If you'd only known it from the start
The moments form just who we are
You were always hereEyes so open, kindness spoken
The same words but their sound has changed
It's clear as crystal, a perfect picture
A landscape that you only dreamedA moment mends a broken heart
If you'd only known it from the start
The moments form just who we are
You were always here
Always here
