Dethroned

Architects

I lie awake
What will they think?
What will they say?
Probably nothingNo walls there could hold me
No walls there could mold me
People step aside
You're wasting my time tryingTeachers couldn't teach it
No ones arms could reach it
You all just abide and watch
Your rights get stolenCast away my soul, and begin
Hypnotized by a killing moonDethroned, take a life away
Dethroned, long time coming
Victim in the eyes of a savior gunning
DethronedJesus didn't show me
Neighbors didn't know me
Revolution start today
Nail the truth, kill the sinCameras will not see it
No one will believe it
A horror in the crowd
Now bathe your king in fireCast away my soul, and begin
Hypnotized by a killing moonDethroned, take a life away
Dethroned, long time coming
Victim in the eyes of a savior gunning
Dethroned
