

Blow Your Mind

Gran Bel Fisher

Can't wait to be feeling great again
And I'll say when the feeling's sinking in
And I hope that the road is long
'Cause the smoke on the mountains got people falling off
But I'm right here and I'm feeling just fine
While I'm living, why should I care, where I go, when I die? Take it slow 'cause all we got is time
And it's the easy breeze that's gonna blow your mind It's beautiful, take another look around
You're so high but still you let it bring you down
And I know that the things I need
Are not up in the sky or down by the sea
But right now, oh, we're feeling fine
While we're living, why should we care, where we go, when we die? Take it slow 'cause all we got is time
And it's the easy breeze that's gonna blow your mind

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>