Fallen Star

Supreme Majesty

He was coming from the cold Didn't know where he was but a purpose he had to follow
There was laughter all around him People mocking his visions and prophecies deemed as hollowThen the sky crashed down
And the spheres collide
They would hide in fear
Feel the darkness nearHey now, fallen star
Your soul was not meant to be free
Fire, across the sky
This time he knows it's for real
Hey now, fallen star
Breaking up seven seals
Fire, across the sky
This time he knows it's for realRiding on through endless skies On a steed pearly white as the sun-sparkling mist of morning
With a mind set on just one mission Save the earth from the void, be a guardian of all that's righteousThen the sky crashed down
And the spheres collide
People hide in fear
Now the darkness is nearStruggling with the beast for an age
A final blow falls hard through his heart
Silently they fall to the ground
United, both as one, one as all

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/