A Long Time

Amanda Overmyer

Every little thing you ever wanted
I never could give to you
Lost on a path of self destruction
Darling, darling I could never get through to youNow the whispering wind cries your name
And as time goes on I still feel the same
Every little thing we shared
Nothing ever will compare to what weve been through
There was a long time of me and youWell you always had a way of cutting me down
But everytime wed touch
Wed never hit the ground
But when you never take a breathe
And you never want to come back home
Time can eat at you when youre aloneNow the whispering wind cries your name
And as time goes on I still feel the same
Every little thing we shared
Nothing ever will compare to what weve been through
There was a long time of me and youWell the aching heart it never sleeps
And my eyes, wide or shut, still they weep
Once we were through nothing could compete
With the long time of you and meNow the whispering wind cries your name
And as time goes on I still feel the same
Every little thing we shared
Nothing ever will compare to what weve been through
There was a long time of me and youNow the whispering wind cries your name
And as time goes on I still feel the same
Every little thing we shared
Nothing ever will compare to what weve been through
There was a long time of me and youEvery little thing you ever wanted
I never could give to you
