Attica Blues

Lost in mirrored labyrinths I strive to find
 Anyway to escape
 And leave it all behind
 But the dense layer lingers on
With promised blue skies beyond
 What once were rainbows
 Now hazy shades of pastel grey
 Circles ever viscous
 Content ever sparse
 Will I really ever live to tell the Bitter tale of my quest?Wandering through the corridors of time
 I find wider divides
Primordial plans for a new day dawning
 Without mourning
 Past moons
 That once shone on the ones that today
 Left behind
Visionary dreams dissolve in our hands
 Such potent potential for transcending
 Dimensions
 Do you pass or do you fail on the Consciousness scale
 Do your inhibitions lie in body or mind
Are you relying on that silver lining?Bewitched
 Bewildered
 And Beguiled
 I lie
 Like the tornado's eye
Whilst all around you the madness swirls
 Until drawn in
 It hurls you high
 And lets you fly for a while
 But then it lets you fall
 It lets you
 It makes you
 Fall...
