Everybody Cries

Jim Cuddy

Oh, baby let it rain, I feel it washing over me
The anxiety, I watch it fade away
'Cause everything can change, it changes right in front of me
Could you set me free to where I wanna be
Is something wrong, is there a reason why
We're putting up a fight?
Don't be ashamed to open up your heart
Everybody cries
Goodbye is kinda hard, it's not a thing I like to do
Can you pull me through into a better day
Forever in my heart you'll always be a part of me
You believed in me and that I won't forget
Is something wrong, is there a reason why
We're putting up a fight?
Don't be ashamed to open up your heart
Everybody cries
No-one should ever be lonely
And we were meant to walk together, together
Is something wrong, is there a reason why
We're putting up a fight?
Don't be ashamed to open up your heart
Everybody cries
Is something wrong, is there a reason why
We're putting up a fight?
Don't be ashamed to open up your heart
Everybody cries
