

Unstable Matter

Weesp

Keep your sentiments don't bother me
I'm not cold, it's not that I'm severe
But you'd better keep them for
Those who still believe
She looks sad, it still aches, but
You know nothing about the ache And you don't know how steel was forged
On our friends bones
There's our home on fire
Another cause to have some fun
Come over here my silly I will show you how it's done
It will always be a part of me
I'm not glad can't figure out why
As there's no smoke without a fire
No betrayal without a liar We changed theme, exchanged names
Tell me straight or on the rocks
While death is laughing behind our backs
Wiping our snots
There's our home on fire
Another cause to have some fun Come over here my silly
I will show you how it's done
And we're loving change
Can't recall my name
Yeah we're loving change There's blood on our hands
On my hands
In the dark, blindfolded and drunk
We're throwing the dice
This is a story with bitter end
But we can't act otherwise
